A DEFINITE DIFFERENCE

Looking closely at Logan High students many impressive differences are discovered. The standards of excellence are exceptionally high, especially in academics and athletics. Logan High has always been on top, giving their best in everything they do.

"Dennis"
Well kid now that I know your "move!!"
develop ment your in big trouble. Have a great summer. See you next year
Coach "P"

Jennifer Johnson shows her spirit. "Say Yeah!" yells Coach Comadena to Dan Pond.

Elizabeth Sinclair and Heather Holdaway lead the enthusiastic football supporters. "We love school!" say nerds Mike Crowshaw and Jeff Black.

GRIZZLY PRIDE

The studentbody prides itself on having a lot of spirit. The cheerleaders, the spirit club, and band help to keep the games exciting. Some students even go as far as painting their faces with red and gold.

The marching band shows pride as they lead the parade. We've got spirit yes we do!

The "Lighted L" helped the football team, and crowd, to victory. Boy's League Officers, among others, supplied candy to many onlookers.

*A bit crowded for dancing?

Student Life

Varied ideas, outlooks, and interests blend to common goals at Logan High. Social activities provide an enjoyable diversion from the pressures of homework and thinking. During dances, assemblies, and personal activities we come to realize that everyone wants to find success and have a fun time in the process.

Mike Hart, John Swallow, and Rulon Wood are the beautiful, interesting, and cool contestants on the "Dating Game."

A Difference In Homecoming

Instead of the regular Monday morning start, this year's Homecoming week began the Saturday before. Energetic students spent the day mounting a permanent "L" on the mountainside. Under the direction of the Student Body Officers they raised the seventy yard symbol to Logan High's unquenchable spirit.

Early Monday morning the seniors met in old clothes to glorify the local Main Street store fronts and, following tradition, also had a wild paint fight.

Thursday, alumni from the class of '82 showed inspirational slides of a past Homecoming victory and later that night hundreds of students participated in the parade that was better than ever.

After the parade the senior women played a tough blood-and-guts Powder Puff game. Later everyone gathered around the Sophomore bonfire with the cheerleaders leading them in spirit boosting cheers.

Friday a pep rally created a feeling of school unity. Students were psyched up by coach Comendena's "Break Down" drill and all left feeling excited for the upcoming game.

The action began at 7:30 under the lights. The Grizzly players took an early lead and the crowd went wild. Logan easily smeared the Ogden Tigers 38 to 12 and added another victory to their growing list.

The week came to a happy end on Saturday night at the Homecoming Dance. "Forever Young" was the theme of the dance which was portrayed through columns, plants, and a fountain of youth. The newly crowned Homecoming Queen, Michelle Davis, and her attendants, Jennifer Johnson and Theresa Sozio, reigned over the dancing couples who all wore smiles that reflected their fantastic week.

The finished product.

A Logan team player breaks away. Hail to Logan High.

During the Summer, Students Live It Up

On the average summer night in Logan, the smell of barbequing steaks or fresh cut grass drifted around the neighborhood, and the sound of far off cheering or of faint music could be heard coming from the university. Most Logan High students had a very busy summer. Their time was spent in a number of ways.

Many clinics and camps are held at universities here in the state. Music, yearbook, and debate clinics were held for those interested in academics. For the athletic students; football, basketball, cheerleading, and drill team camps were held, in addition, there was always a youth conference going on somewhere.

Students spent their time in many other ways. Many radio stations and other groups sponsored dances. Time was spent shopping at the mall or downtown. Backyard parties and barbeques were held in many neighborhoods, and all the parks were filled with picnics.

Many Logan High students had part or full time jobs at many of the local stores and businesses. "I'm glad school is starting because I'm sick of teaching bratty kids how to swim," said Judi Grenney, lifeguard at the Municipal pool. Kim Coray, secretary at Advanced Micro Applications Corporation stated, "My summer job was a good money maker but I would rather have eaten liver."

All in all, summer was a busy time for students. Some were even glad the summer was over and they were looking forward to the start of school because they needed a rest.

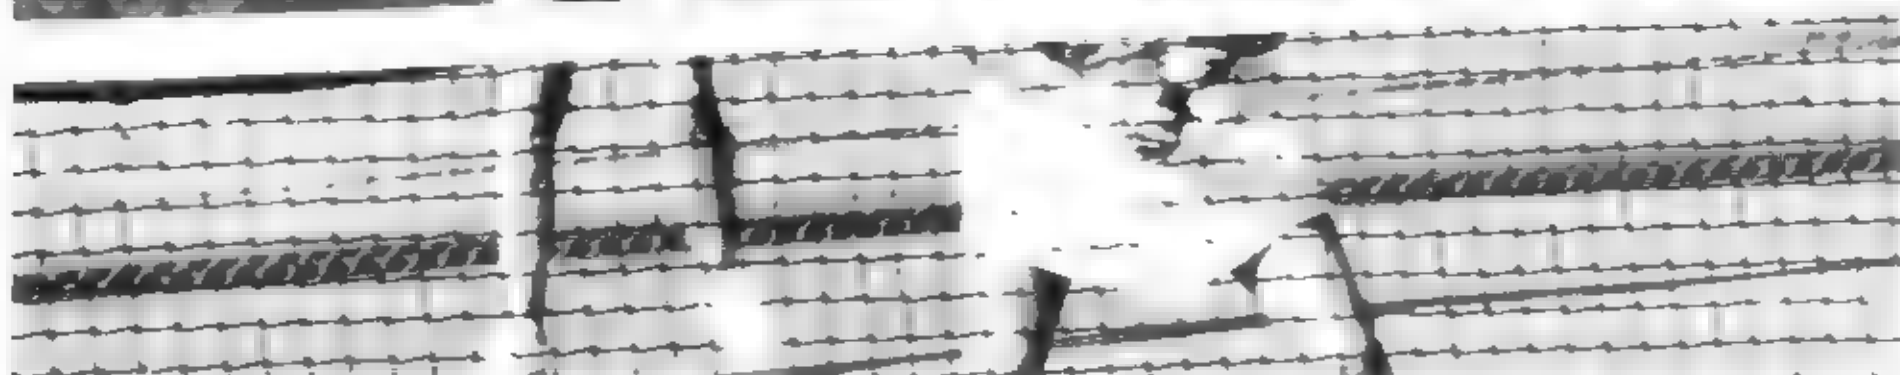

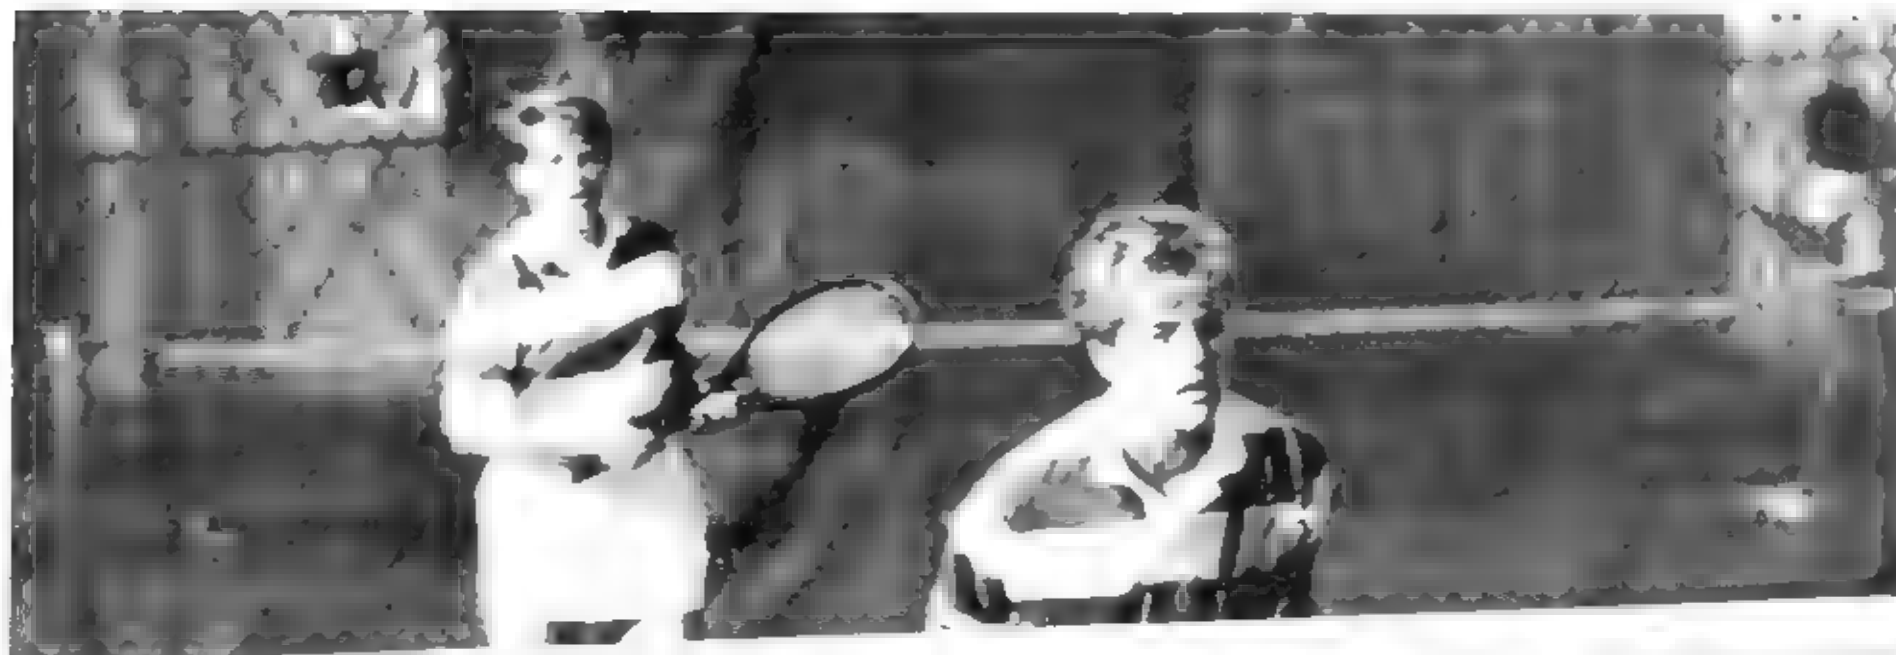

Many summer cliff-jumpers make use of the scenic mountain-side. Through a cheerful smile, Sherry Jardine shows everyone how much fun she had at Girls State.

Cinderella and Prince Charming (Mike Anderson) enjoy Disneyland.

Creating a Difference

STUDENTBODY OFFICERS: Ron Smellie, President; Lisa Hillyard, Secretary; Scott Andersen, Executive; Dan Pond, Vice President; Kim Freeman, Executive; Shayne Christiansen, Executive.

The exclusive six member group of Logan High Studentbody Officers had a tough job. Because serving the students was a big responsibility, each member worked hard and put in extra time which made the year successful. Some of the events they were in charge of included studentbody cards, the "L" on the mountain, Homecoming Week, the Christmas Dance, Beach Week and many more.

When asked what was different about this year, Vice President Dan Pond replied, "Attitude". He went on to explain that the officers were truly concerned about getting everyone involved.

Ron and Shayne lead the Homecoming Royalty across the field. While digging the "L", Dan finds a monstrous snake. Planning the dance, Kim discusses the pros and cons of using plants and fountains.

Choosing the theme "One Step Closer" they encouraged students to be the best they could be in both academics and athletics. Shane Christianson liked being an officer because he felt that he could "make a difference".

"No matter how well we plan an activity, it isn't fun unless everybody shows up," commented Assemblies Executive, Kim Freeman. With the participation of the bulk of the studentbody, events did turn out great and the officers succeeded in making a year full of fun and excitement that will be remembered for years to come.

An Unusual Look at Logan High

The character of Logan High School is made up of a combination of features. None of these elements are anything special on their own but together they are the lasting symbols of the original Grizzly personality.

The main building is made up of three floors or halls, each with a distinctive aspect. The bottom floor, or Sophomore and Freshmen hall, contains the impenetrable chicken coop, a cluster of closely-placed lockers designed for teaching lower classmen togetherness. One of the thousands of freshman, Missy Parish, said about her locker, "I never get to class on time because it is so crowded." The junior hall is on the third floor with the library because it contains the vital know how that they will need as seniors. It also kept them in shape. "I get sick of running the stairs all the time and it gets worse everyday," stated Scott Davis.

The center of attention, the middle or senior hall, is the location of the snack machines, the administration offices, the bookstore, the auditorium and last but never least, the 'jock bench'. Senior Moanna Manley exclaimed, "I'm happy to finally have my locker in the senior hall because it's easy access and I don't have to have little freshman in my face all the time."

In explanation of its title, the 'jock bench' is a marble bench located in the lobby where members of the football team can be found before and after school, at lunch, and between classes.

Shawn Fullmer 'smiles' for the camera. Farshad Dailami spots the problem. Leslie McDonald, Chris Green, Sandra Lowther, and Nicole Gottfredson are just glad to be here.

One of the most prominent jocks, Derek Matlock, said he sat there because "It is a good seat and there is a heater there." It is also the sight of most of the gossiping done at school. The bookstore, next to the office, is the place where students got the 'bear necessities'. Other buildings include the English building, the Industrial Arts building, the Seminary building and the Old Boys Gym.

With an outstanding faculty the Logan students were academic strides ahead of the rest. Controlling the departments were P. Stoddart, English;

H. Hoyt, science; E. Tueller, music and fine arts; M. Allen, language; A. Hansen, business; L. Hirschi, vocational; R. Bradford, mathematics; R. McBride, athletics; and P. Johnson, home economics. New student Jeanette England said, "I haven't met all the teachers, but the ones I have met I've liked."

Logan High also has the best high-school athletic training facilities in the state. The Recreation Center contains several basketball, raquetball and tennis courts, a volleyball court, team locker rooms, a weight room, a gymnastic room, a wrestling room, an aerobics room, a track and coaches offices. Located behind this building is Crimson Field and two baseball diamonds. Coach Chambers, new at the school, quoted "It makes teaching P.E. a lot easier. Besides, I love to play raquetball."

All of these features have different ranks of importance according to the student. Together they make up the Logan High setting, and this setting is made a place of excellence by the students who flavor it with humor, intelligence and Grizzly pride.

"The way I figure it . . ." comments Laura Smith.

The football team looks thrilled while waiting for an assembly. Charlene Farley portrays another exciting day at Logan High.

Students Enjoy Life After 2:30

After school is a time that most students look forward to. It is a time to relax, work on homework, eat, watch T.V, and many other activities. Nights were spent in such fun activities as movies, and dances.

The time immediately after school was, for many, spent in a wild binge of eating. After starving throughout the day it was great to be home exploring the unknown frontiers of the refrigerator.

Crooners was Logan's latest addition to teen entertainment. Many students enjoyed its music and atmosphere. "Crooners is a great place to meet new people and hang out with your friends," commented Roxanne James, an avid Crooners fan.

Jobs were another time consuming aspect of school life for many students. The majority of students worked at fast-food places, grocery stores, and clothing stores. "Working is great, but pay day is better," exclaimed Kelli Wengreen, an employee of Oscars in the mall. Working often made it difficult to get homework and other responsibilites done, but the working students found it worthwhile because of the money it provided. The money earned was spent on cars, and car repairs, dates, clothes, food and many other things.

Dollar night became almost a ritual. On Tuesday nights movies only cost one dollar. "Everyone could get a date on Tuesday because it's dollar night and some guys are cheap," said Kim Freeman.

Days of Our Lives was a favorite after school show. Many of the "addicted to soaps" students raced home daily to see the continuing saga. Other students Cami Windley puts in extra hours for a history test. Connie Murray rushes off to work.

After School Hours

After school time was spent in many ways. Students could be found practicing for a sport, working on homework, at jobs, or just being with friends

Changes, Disasters and Hopes for Peace

1. On November 20, 1985, President Reagan reported the Geneva Arms talks to a joint session of Congress. Vice President Bush and Speaker Tip O'Neil presided over the session.
2. This is the first time in years that the two hands of state have met face to face, Gorbachev and Reagan met in Geneva Switz. to discuss the Arms race.
3. Natural disasters have been great problems for many countries. The Mexico City earthquake reached 7.8 on the richter scale, and it was followed by a volcano eruption in Columbia.
4. Terrorism struck many people close to home. Plane hijackings and bombs were some of the tactics they used to get their demands fulfilled. Even in Salt Lake three people were victims of bombs due to the Malcolm Papers.
5. On January 28, 1986, the whole world stood shocked as the Space Shuttle Challenger, on its 20th flight, exploded after a minute into liftoff. The seven crew members, which included school teacher Christa McAuliffe, were instantly killed as the ball of fire engulfed the shuttle.
6. The Statue of Liberty underwent a major face lift. The gift of France was remodeled thanks to millions of dollars of private contributions.
7. The most publicized Super Bowl II between the Chicago Bears and the New England Patriots turned out to be a predictable upset. With headband space for rent and the "Superbowl Shuffle", the Bears proved to have more skill and strength to end the game with the score of 46-10.
8. The 12th president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints died on November 6, 1985. He was succeeded by Ezra Taft Benson.

Logan High

1. The fourth sequel to Rocky was a symbolic and dramatic movie. Ivan Drago received many hard blows to his "bionic" body as the Soviet crowd chanted "Go Rocky Go!"
2. "Back to the Future" was the longest running and most money making film of our time. Michael J. Fox (Marty) and Christopher Lloyd (Dr. Brown) showed mass appeal in a light hearted comedy about time travel and Marty's effect on his family's future.
3. Bill Cosby and his TV family related well to everyone through a comic stance on many of today's problems. Their lifestyle is so common and realistic that everyone can see themselves in the same places.
4. Michael J. Fox again proves his appeal to all who watch "Family Ties". His scholarly yet, comic approach with all, seem to be an entertainment favorite.
5. Miami Vice was the biggest action show to hit TV. Two good looking cops, dressed in pastels will stop at nothing to catch the smugglers of the southeast coast.
6. Arnold Schwarzeneger does it again. His stern will outdoes even Rambo in "Commando". Arnold has only a short time to rescue his only daughter from terrorists who are ready to kill her. It's a great movie for people who love violence.
7. Pee Wee's Big Adventure put everyone back to their childhood. His daydreaming, childish arguments, trick toys, and a very special bicycle entertained and sent most out talking from the back of their throats.

Clothes Portray Personality

Fashions this year have not been as predominantly wide-spreading as years past. As the year began many people came with "gummy bracelets", collars buttoned up to the top, and paisley on everything.

During the year most people dressed to please themselves and be comfortable. Shirt tails were commonly seen hanging out and sweats were worn often.

Levis 501s were still a popular "shrink-to-fit" style for pants. They came in all colors. Guys mostly wore sweatshirts, tailored shirts, vests and sweaters, and T-shirts with unique designs, such as Maui and Sons.

Girls' fashions were very interesting. Brouches, worn at the buttoned up collar, were a fun way to look dressed up and have your own unique wardrobe. Most girls raided their grandma's jewelry box. As the year went on big flower prints began popping up everywhere. V-necked vests and sweaters were a common way to stay warm through the winter. The mid-calf length of pants were still standard, but stirrup pants in all colors and prints were being worn.

The most comfortable and popular article of clothing were college sweatshirts. The debate team had their logo put on sweatshirts, and the student body officers had the school logo. Swatches or reasonable facsimiles occupied everyone's wrists.

Hair, in general, was clean cut for the guys and parted on the side. Girls hair ranged from short to bobs to long, but no matter how it was cut it was neat looking.

Clothes this year showed individualism and no matter what people wore it portrayed their personalities.

Assemblies and Pep rallies prove to be Crowd Pleasers

This year the assemblies were a fresh break from the common routine of the school day.

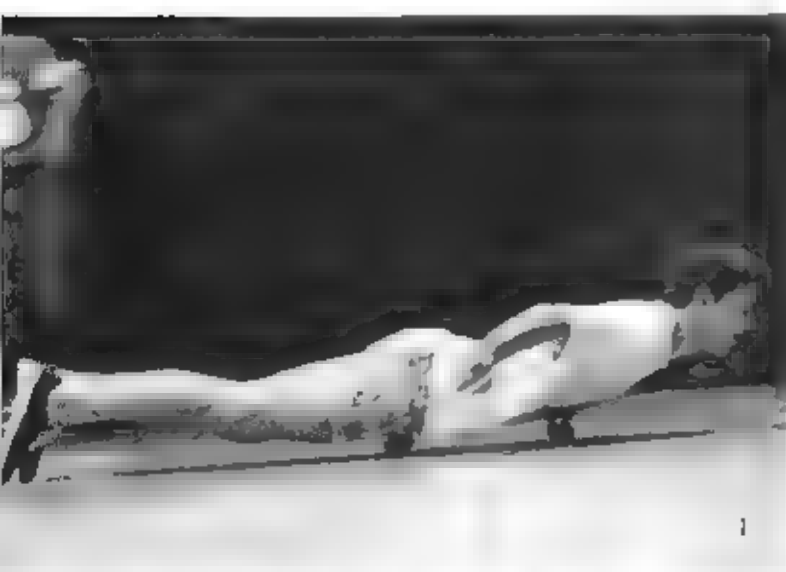

The highlight of many pep rallies were the Rulon Wood and Mike Hart skits. The contests of classes always made a big hit, too.

Jack Lythgoe and his assistant Renae pleased the Logan High Students most of all. Some subjects found animals on their arms while others were taken into the future. Even a few people were left with a post-hypnotic suggestion.

John Goddard shared another one of his safaris with the students.

Arsenic and Old Lace

As the lights go up and the crowd grows hushed, an excentric old lady walks out on stage.

This was the scene for "Arsenic and Old Lace" one of Logan High's finest plays. To make it "One of the finest" Mr. Eugene Tueller, director had to have a talented cast. Choosing the cast was not easy, the many hopefuls that tried out were talented but those that best fit the parts shone through. The cast soon found that the competitive auditions were not the most work and that it was making the play real. All of the cast members stayed after school reading lines, rehearsing stage blocking and trying to create the perfect atmospher.

Actors also participated in advertising and helping the appointed commitees to increase public awareness.

The finished product was a huge success and a terrific learning experience.

Participants included:

Sherry Jardine, Lovelle Peterson, Susie Cambell, Daniel Contarovici, Nylan Domenici, Lance Lyons, Rulon Wood, Dennis Morrow, Kurt Foster, and Todd Windley.

For Just a Moment

The Girls Choice Dance was sponsored by the Logan High Spirit Club. The theme was "Just for a Moment".

It was evident that there was a great turnout by the long line that couples stood in so they could have their pictures taken. The Spirit Club spent many vigorous hours working on the decorations that consisted of red and white crepe paper that was twisted together and strung around and across the cafeteria. The red and white balloons that were filled with helium became a great conversation piece for the couples that were shy and didn't have much to say.

There were many creative ways that the girls asked their date. Some were led on a scavenger hunt across town and others with halloween pumpkins.

Couples throughout the dance were enjoying themselves. The dance would be remembered for a little longer than "For Just a Moment".

Dance!

The Halloween dance, which was held in the Rec Center, was sponsored by the Chauntaires. The dances after the football and basketball games brought in a lot of money for the organizations that sponsored them. Often you could find students from the three high schools there. The dances were held in the old Boys Gym. Dances were a great way to socialize and meet new people.

Tis the Season To Be Jolly

When the snow began to fall and the air became frosty, people's hearts turned to Christmas. Besides shopping and wrapping gifts, everyone went skiing (even though it was a school day), ice skating, and doing festive things. The Christmas dance was a nice place for all to celebrate and find out that "Christmas is . . . Love."

On February 7 at 2:15, the wacky women of Logan High got on their marks to run in "The Great Race". That was only one of the events of Wacky Women's Week. The girls league put on a slide show featuring the crazy girls. Many couples dressed up, had a bite to eat, and went to the dance in the Old Girl's Gym. All who attended said it was the best they had been to in a long time.

1. These girls discuss their dates as the guys take a powder

Freedom Week

A new event was observed this year. The week of February 21-28th was "Freedom Week". Organized by Lisa Hillyard and Teresa Thomson, it's purpose was to remind students of the many freedoms they enjoy.

The promoters of this occurrence hope to make it an annual tradition here at Logan High. One student, Stephanie Hansen, said, "I think it was a fine idea because it reminded me of all the freedoms that I have which I take for granted. I'm proud to be an American citizen."

Freedom Speech Winner

From the day the Pilgrims left their own shore and set foot on our beautiful land, there have been many who given much to build and preserve the ideals of those first American seeking the "good life."

Our flag flies over a free land. Freedom means we can live by the rationalization of John Locke: life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. A ballot dropped in a box, the roar of a crowd in a stadium and the voice of a choir in a cathedral. These are only a fraction of the things that bring America to mind.

Our country provides more than 130,000 schools and colleges to educate the future of America so that our country will remain a Representative Democracy. Education is limitless in our country, all may achieve as much knowledge as they wish to possess.

America is a home to men voluntarily training to defend no matter what the price may be. Committed leaders working for a compromise for peace that can only be reached through trust and unselfishness.

America is a land of plenty. Land which sprawls from the Atlantic to the Pacific ... our arms even reach out to embrace Alaska and Hawaii. Field, forest, desert and mountain. People of every race, color, and creed. As scribed on Lady Liberty's tablet: "Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breath free." A country with small villages and cities that never sleep. "... One nation under God." under any god we choose to worship. We are given rights, god given rights to worship as we choose. Religion was the whole basis on which our country was settled and founded. Freedom of Speech and of the Press are some of the most important and vital freedoms our government grants us. As long as we respect the rights of others we may say and write what we wish.

The United States remains a haven of freedom and a beacon of hope to the rest of the world. An unknown Author sums up my feelings with this: "Perfect its not, but its the best thing this world's got!"

"Annie Get Your Gun" has been a favorite musical for many years because of its catchy tune, western flair, and the typical romance cycle of love-break up-love. The main character, an unsophisticated back country girl who becomes famous, was given spark by the talented Kari Maw. Her rival-lover, Charlie Davenport, was played by Kurt Foster. His overbearing and demanding sister, Dolly Tate was brought to life by Helen Parkinson. Lisa Smith and Greg Watts played young lovers, Winnie Tate and Tommy Keeler. Wild West showmen were played by Richard Allen and Kent Haslam and Chief Sitting Bull, the famous Sioux warrior was played by Byron Allen.

Performances were on March 13th, 14th, and 15th. The whole cast was happy with their performances and felt that it was a huge success. In the words of audience member Leslee McDonald, "It was very professionally done and the costumes were excellent!"

Warm Weather In March Brings Spring Fever

The early lifting of the cold weather brought with it the jitters of "spring fever". In late February students enjoyed unusually warm days and were soon digging out their favorite summer casuals.

That, of course, speeded up the short dress code controversy. This pressing problem was resolved when the student council met with the "head honchos", Mr. Olson and Mr. Haslam. It was agreed that shorts and mini-skirts could be worn if they were in good taste, or rather, if they were not too short. This guideline is to stay in effect until the privilege is abused.

Spring also cleared out the halls. Instead of gathering in the lobby between classes and at lunch, students went outdoors to lounge in the sun's rays. For most students the best part of this was spring break.

1. Lana Koeven takes advantage of the sun for a bike ride.
2. Lunch hours are spent socializing in front of the school.

Amphion Dedication

Everyone wants to have some record of the happy times they had in high school. Therefore, the yearbook serves a very important purpose; that of recording the memories. The grueling schoolwork, triumphs, defeats, and fun times are all portrayed by this.

With an almost all new staff, a big change occurred in the organization of the yearbook. This year, instead of having page editors that did every aspect of their assigned sections, the work was divided by type. The overall editor, Kim Freeman, had three editors under her, an advertising editor, a layout editor, and a copy editor. A small staff of workers were under each of them.

The first big job the staff tackled was that of selling ad space to interested sponsors. Leslee McDonald, advertising editor, made up a list of local businesses and divided them up into several groups. Everyone, whether or not they were on the advertising staff, was then assigned a bunch of prospective buyers. For the next few weeks, class time was spent running around town pitching sales.

Next came layout. Kim Coray, layout editor, collaborated with the editor-in-chief and decided which pages were to be done to meet the first deadline. With that in mind, she assigned them to her staff. They drew up 'blueprints' of each page that included picture sizes, caption space, and copy length.

After that was completed, the copy staff went to work. Under the direction of copy editor, Judi Grenney, they wrote up summaries of the year's events. Short on writers, outside help was recruited and nearly everyone on the staff wrote at one time or another. There always seemed to be more to do than time to do it and often part of the staff stayed late into the night finishing up.

Most of the photos were taken by Robert Decker, Scott Rawlings, and Julie Swallow. Together they captured on film each happening and its corresponding emotions. The developing process was done not only by these three, but also the sometimes-not-so-willing photo II students were stuck with it, and so part of the credit for getting the Amphion out on time goes thankfully to them.

As supervisor, Mr. Williams did a tremendous job. It was also his first year working with the yearbook and his comment on it was, "I would never have made it through the year without the help of the students!" A lot of work was put into the making of the yearbook and the whole staff is proud of their efforts.

Reporting the Difference

This year the Grizzly Staff produced some of the most memorable school papers. Each time the publication came out, something new and exciting was there for the studentbody to read. In fact, most of the articles were about students for Logan High. A lot of time was taken to write the articles that would interest students.

The students on the staff spent time during and after school working on deadlines. Everything the staff did took a lot of time and effort to do, and each issue brought articles that were both fun and interesting to read. Eric Wallis commented on the Staff, "Being on the Staff has caused many long hours of hard work and plenty of frustration, but when you see the paper in print all those hours finally pay off."

Tradition of Excellence

Chauntaires carry on the tradition of excellence. Under the direction of Eugene Tueller, the Chauntaires perform for many organizations in the valley. They have performed numerous times for school assemblies.

The new dresses, that consist of long black skirts, a long sleeved white blouse, and red bow ties and cummerbunds added a professional look to the group.

Red bow ties and cummerbunds were also added to the boys black and white tuxedos.

In the springtime Mr. Tueller holds tryouts for students who would like to be in Chauntaires. Mrs. Mortenson, a talented pianist, accompanies Chauntaires.

Crimson

Colony

Hey, Look At Us Now!

Crimson Colony is not just another chorus or swinging choir, it happens to be the best in the state! Well that's what Governor Bangerter stated at his visit to the school on January 9.

Now I bet your asking yourself what this marvellous singing chorus do to deserve such a compliment!

Every morning at seven o'clock, under the direction of Gene Tueller, about twenty girls and boys enter the choral room with enthusiastic faces, ready to sing just about anything. Once they have a song learned, they work together in putting dance steps to it. In a period of about two months, Crimson Colony has put together about seven or eight songs with dance steps and are ready to perform.

The Band Played On

The Grizzly Symphonic Band this year has done a terrific job.

The symphonic band did an excellent job this year with many great performances. They competed against Sky View and Mt. Crest in Region Concert Band Competition and beat out both schools. Mike Christiansen commented, "The band is a group of intellectuals who come together and unite as one to make great noises. And besides, it's a great way to go on trips."

"Wouldn't you like to be a band fag too?" commented Annie Julander when asked to give a quote for the yearbook.

Everywhere the band goes, they seem to have a lot of fun. Doug Redd, a Senior Percussionist passively admitted, "Being a part of the percussion section has been the most touchingly emotional experience in my life." Michelle Talmadge gave her analogy of the band, "Band is an interesting study in animal behavior."

Any band article wouldn't be complete without the famous words of Mr. Nelson, "Go to L." Doug Redd went on to say, "I think the situation demands immediate attention. I think Corizon Aquino is a communist."

Even though there are some strange individuals in the band, they still seem to get the job done. They may not have the best marching band, or the best pep band, but at least everyone is having a good time. Mark Stettler said in a normal tone, "Being in the Percussion section is exciting but we need some new equipment."

The band really tried this year to please everyone, but not everyone can be pleased by the Logan High Band. People tend to only look at Mountain Crest and Sky View for marching band performances, but we feel at Logan that we have the best band program in the valley. Professors at U.S.U. say that they can only recruit Logan band members because people from Sky View and Mt. Crest are too burned out.

The Orchestra

In Tune

Conducted by Ted Ashton, the orchestra this year has been spectacular. Although they have had some problems, they have still come out on top.

The Grizzly fiddlers have been one of the top three orchestras for 3A division high schools in the state of Utah for the last four years. They have been to many competitions and haven't finished lower than third place.

Eric Wallis, the section leader of the percussion said, "One of the main reasons for the orchestra's success is that most of the members started playing before they were in junior high." Many students start in elementary school with Mr. Ashton.

Mr. Ashton puts most of the emphasis on a self satisfying performance rather than winning a competition although the two go hand in hand.

The orchestra class is held first hour in the room above the cafeteria. On Thursdays the band gives up 25 of its best musicians to sit in with the strings to form a full symphonic orchestra.

The music ranges from concertos to old show tunes arranged for orchestra. Many people devote their time and effort and are responsible for the group's success.

We would like to thank our orchestra students and Mr. Ashton for putting in the many extra hours that they do to insure that they will perform admirably. Although orchestra is a very fun class, the students must work very hard to keep the musicality and quality of their performances at a high level.

Hi-Lo's

Drill Team

Style

The Hi Lo's began their busy day at 5:45 am, in the Rec Center. The practice runs until 7:30 am and resumes at 2:45 pm until 5:30 pm.

The last week of June was spent attending United Spirit Association camp. Groups split up and attended different workshops. Each girl learned dances and gained new ideas to bring back to the group. The Hi Lo's won a superior trophy and superior banner for their group performance and combined individual performances.

The Hi Lo's have performed at various half-times including the Aggie half-time January 11. They also competed at Rocky Mountain, Reigon and State. They took sweepstakes last year at the Miss Drill Team Utah and this year were proud to take second at the Pagent. They won first place in the four events, jazz, military, novelty and prop. This was in their reigon. Angie Wimmer and Denise Kidman also placed in the top ten Miss Drill Team. We are very proud of the way they have represented our school.

Spirit

Club

We've Got Spirit

The Spirit Club was a good way for the sophomores and freshmen to get involved in school activities during the year.

The Spirit Club worked close with the cheerleaders during the school year to bring out school spirit. The members decorated the football players rooms, sponsored the Girl's Choice dance in November, and sold Christmas Candy. Their uniforms were the traditional gold sweaters. A red "L" with their name on it, and the year in which they graduated was added to the look.

The Spirit Club has been a tradition at Logan High and will always be a part of school spirit.

Creative

The Girls League started working together early in June. Their first activity was a dance held on the USQ parking terrace. "It was lots of fun to have such a successful fundraiser," said Senior Rep. Shelly Wegener.

A lot of planning helped to make the senior women's Powder Puff game come off. The Red and Gold team's were practicing diligently, the Brikettes were ready for their debut, the field was prepared, and the shirts finally came. President Debbie Warren stated, "It took loads of time and hard work to get everything to workout so well, but we all had a lot fo fun getting the job done."

The week was full of fun activities such as a dress-up day and a treat day, but the highlight of the week was the Great Race. Clad in sweats, the wacky women raced to get their man for the Sweethearts Ball on February 22. 1985-86 was a great year for the Girls League.

Boy's

League

Workers

Taking on many projects, the Boys League Officers helped to make the year one to remember. They began by riding in a convertible during the Homecoming Parade and had a good time throwing candy to all the excited spectators. During Homecoming Week the Boys League also helped prepare the land for the "L" on the mountain by doing much of the physical labor.

The officers got into the Christmas spirit in two ways. First, they donated a brightly decorated Christmas tree to a needy family after the tree had been used as a decoration at the Christmas Dance. Second, they helped with Comadena's food drive. President Mark LeBaron said, "It's good to know that all of us can help those who aren't as fortunate as ourselves at this time of year."

Student

Senate

Decisions

Student Senate might bring thoughts of parliamentary procedure and a chairman. It may not be exactly the same, but similar things got done.

It is a joint effort of all of the officers. They meet together (usually during school) to decide on questions, confirm plans, and vote on issues. They campaigned for the food drive and contributed to the homecoming activities. This group effort helped make Logan High united and a lot of fun, too.

Girls' State

Experience

From State Governors to Dog Catchers, Logan High's boys' and girls' state representatives were elected to lead and direct the other participants. The main purpose of the conference was to teach students about government and how government works. Michelle Checketts said about the experience, "I learned more about the government than I ever had before and I really loved it!" Steve Hurst was quoted as saying, "Boys' State was a convention of sunglasses, practical jokes and for people who really wanted to learn about government." Both girls' and boys' state participants felt that it was one of the best weeks of their lives. Barbara Griffin said, "I loved every minute."

Juniors Go To State

Eight lucky Juniors were able to attend the Utah State Close-Up program in Salt Lake City. This program was held on February 12th and 13th and was a mini-version of the Washington D.C. Close-Up held earlier this year.

The students learned about each branch of the government, observed the legislature in session, attended several information seminars, and met one of the local legislators. One of the participants, Anne Bentley, said, "It was really fun. I learned a lot."

Along with other students from Utah and Northern California, these students had the opportunity to participate in the Close-Up program in Washington D.C. This included seminars with government officials, and tours of the sites in the capital city.

There are many students that render their services to Logan High that go by unnoticed. Some of these people include Historians, L-Point Clerks, Library Aides and Lunchroom Helpers.

A Historians job is to keep track and write down the events that happened in the year that will make it memorable.

L-Point Clerks keep track of the L-Points that students earn each year in high school. The points accumulate by the amount of activities the individual students are active in. Near the end of the year all senior students who have earned at least 175 L-Points will be invited to attend the "L" Banquet and will receive a "L" pin. As a new service to our school public relations people were appointed to contact the newspapers about events and keep the notice boards up to date.

Speech

Creative Competition

Have you ever asked yourself why there are so many tired people walking around, or why all of a sudden you hear shouting from the third level of the school building? If so, don't be alarmed, because it is just a debate team. Under the control of Miss Lott, the team's fearless leader, the Logan High Debate Squad has been lead to many victories. One of the many debate meets the squad attended was the Cache Classic in which they sponsored. The most eventful meet however was the USC invitational held at the California campus. The 16 people chosen, traveled to California to compete against schools on the West Coast. The team usually goes to between 30 and 40 tournaments a year. Debate meets usually begin early in the morning at about seven or eight o'clock, which means that they must leave at 3 or 4 in the morning, and end around ten o'clock at night.

Many hours after school are spent in research and practice debating. The dedication and time spent pay off in the end as Kim Coray, advanced debator said, "Debate may be hard work but I love it because it challenges me and helps me be a better person and team member."

REGION

The people who qualify for Region Speech and Debate are considered the "Creme of the Crop". These debaters work long and hard hours to go the extra mile toward success. ## Scholars

Th Academic Decathlon is a competition of elite students that spend their time studying. Every year these students travel to schools in the state. The team is made up of six people, two in the A category, two in the B category, and two in the C category.

The tests are in the areas of, language, speech, interview, essay, math, science, history, economics, and fine arts. Each test has 50 questions and is scored out of a possible 1000 points. Robert Owens, an A category student, said, "Personally I think we're all winners just because we competed in the Decathlon."

Usually a trip to St. George in February is welcomed by anyone but this year it was extremely cold. St. George reported this time to be the coldest of the year. Mr. Hoyt, the coach of the team stated, "Decathlon was great but the weather was the pits."

Even though the Grizzly scholars didn't do very well, they still enjoyed the ride. Farshad Dailami passively stated, "Wow . . ."

Travel

The International Club consists of all students who have French or Spanish. The two presidents are chosen from both the French and Spanish clubs. Each class also chooses a class representative to help plan parties and activities to get students involved in foreign languages. They also had fundraisers to pay for new maps, posters and books. The Spanish students made money for their trip to Mexico by selling pop and candy at dances and other school events. The advisers are Mrs. Bacher, Mr. Paulus, and Mr. Allen. Mark Furlong an avid member of the International Club thought it helped him because, "It really helped because now I can go to Mexico and learn more about the culture."

Service

Every high school across the nation has a Key Club. Its purpose is to serve the school and the community.

This year, the Logan High Key Club helped with the activities at the Adams School Halloween Festival. They are also working with Quaker Oats Company and their Save the Children Program. The Key Club puts the boxes in stores. For every box the Key Club places, Quaker Oats will donate 4.00 dollars to Save the Children. This money goes to starving children all over the world. Mr. Ballard provides the help these students need to serve others. The officers were, Patty Newton, Pres., Tony Hansen, Vice Pres., Michelle Pace, Sec., Debbie Dunning, Treas., Kevan Morgan, Sen. Rep., Brian Hendricks, Jun. Rep., Vicki Callor, Soph. Rep., Dixie Pond, Fresh Rep.

Intellects at work.

The science club, headed by Mr. Anderson, is an elite group of students who have applied themselves to the extracurricular study of science. They study the laws of physics and chemistry, the life processes of biology and physiology, and other theory regarding science. Many of the students involved have made improvements in their science involvement because of their extra effort.

One of the favorite experiments of many of the members is that of making contact explosives. Let's hope that Mr. Anderson can keep them contained.

As snow begins to fall many student's hearts turn to the slopes. Visions of paralleling down massive mogels and jumping off of rocky cliffs occupy many hours at home and at school.

Mr. Emmett and Logan High found a way to preserve these avid skiers, the "Ski Club". Besides enjoying many Warren Miller adventures, the ski club had a night skiing party at Beaver and many trips to Alta, Snowbird and Park City.

The Spirit Goes On

Logan High's 1985-86 Spirit Squad had a fun, successful school year.

Last summer they started off with 7:00 a.m. practices every weekday to get ready for a camp. The early mornings made it worth their while when it came time to perform. The cheerleaders earned a superior on their cheer. They also received a trophy. At showtime USA the song-leaders drew an enthusiastic response from the crowd with their dance to the popular "Mony, Mony" from Billy Idol, which received straight superiors. They also received an award for the hardest working group. Both groups were given spirit sticks for their enthusiasm.

The Spirit Squad had a break in July and got to sleep in, only to begin again in August, preparing for football season. It wasn't difficult for them to get the crowd excited due to the fact that the Grizzly football team played so well. Out of all the season games, the Bear River game probably drew the most spirit from the studentbody.

The football pep rallies succeeded in finishing without any "Borings" from the critics' section of the audience. Much of this must be credited to this year's favorite comical duo, Rulon Wood and Mike Hart. The two kept everyone entertained as they made light of the Spirit Squad and of the previous educational assemblies. Most easily recalled is the Halloween Rally. The squad masked themselves with make up, ratted their hair, looking horrid enough to scare students as they crept down the isles, all in black, to kill the staged Mustang. Followed by dancing and slides, and a Mike and Rulon video, the assembly got the studentbody riled and ready for the game.

Basketball was started off with Spirit Week, full of daily activities and a special pep rally the day of the game. Students painted their faces that day to show Grizzly Pride. The "guys" cheering section alone was enough reason to attend the games. They always managed to come up with new and interesting chants and movements.

Best Season Ever!

This season was an extraordinary season for the Grizzlies. They compiled an 8-3 record. They had many exciting victories and only a few unfortunate losses. Losing to the rival, Bear River team was a big disappointment however, the team bounced back the following week with a victory against Sky View.

After the win against Sky View, Logan went on to dominate region 5 play by beating Ogden, Ben Lomond, and Mountain Crest. After the regular season, the Grizzlies went on to play Pleasant Grove in the first game of the state playoffs. After beating Pleasant Grove, Logan went on to play Springville at Springville. Although the Grizzlies fought hard they just couldn't pull it together until it was too late. Springville went on to beat Bear River in the state championship game.

When team captain, Dave Clark was asked who were the most important players on the team, he replied, "The team as a whole was important, but I thought the hogs set the pace for each game by making good running lanes for the backs and on defense applying a good pass rush." The hogs this year were Dave Clark, Kent Haslam, Dan Pond, Monte Christiansen, Mark LeBaron, Jim Oronoz, Doug Stull, Ty Eliason, Kevin McQuarrie, and Kevin Duersch.

When asked about the 85 season, Coach Christiansen said, The class of 86 was one of the premier teams in LHS history. They achieved their successes due to four years of dedicated hard work, excellent coaching, and a great deal of natural talent.

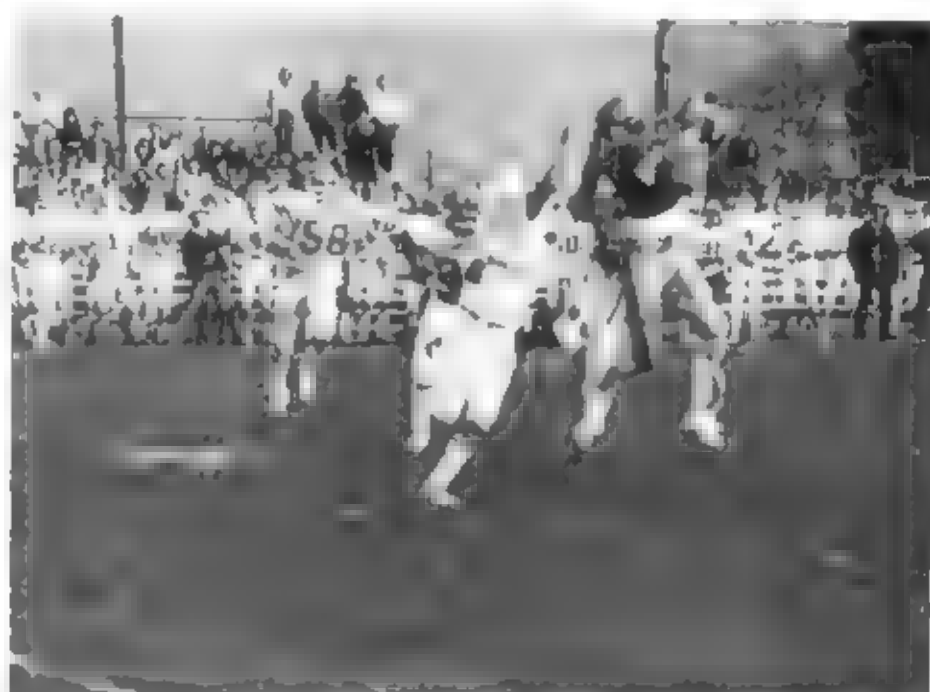

When asked about the Junior Varsity schedule, Coach Williams commented, "The J.V. team had the same schedule as the varsity team with the added burden of having many of their players on the varsity team." The only difference was that our J.V. team had to play the J.V. teams from the other schools.

Even though the Grizzly Junior Varsity did not have a winning season, they still worked hard and put in an extra effort. If they work as hard as they have in the past then they might have a winning season next year.

The class of 89 seems to possess the same type of winning combination that the seniors had. Their undefeated season resulted from a total team effort. The special teams, the backs, all pulled together to earn the young grizzlies a perfect 8-0 record.

Should they continue on the path they have chosen, the class of 89 very well could bring home a state championship trophy (Coach Gardner).

Steve James said about the 85 season, "It was a great season and a great learning experience. The 1985 season really helped my football talents grow. It also helped me learn that team work is an essential part of life." Dave Groll said, "I had a lot of fun playing on the line and I am looking forward to playing next year." Scott Willmore said, "It was great going undefeated this year. I learned a lot. Especially from the varsity team and the way they worked so hard. This will help me in games when I'm a senior."

Overall the 1985 season was well enjoyed by players and fans alike. The football team and their accomplishments brought the school together with an emotional season. Alan Wimmer was quoted as saying, "This years football team was one of the closest and it helped us to win for each other."

MILE AFTER MILE

The determined group of students that made up the Cross Country team set a pace strides ahead of the rest. The small team of seven girls and approximately eighteen boys were almost undefeated. They lost only once, by one small point, to the team from Ben Lomond.

The team began a rigorous training schedule in early September under the direction of Coach McBride. Gathering after school in the recreation center for stretching, sit-ups, and pushups, the dedicated members then went for a "quick" run. On average, they ran a course of three to four miles daily but, on occasion, they were pushed to a grueling six.

This work paid off when the Region and State meets rolled around. The girls team strode away with the Region first place award and the boys followed with a fifth. At State the girls captured the third place and the boys ninth.

Up to Par

The fifteen member Golf Team certainly had an up to par season. Combining their efforts, the team swung to new "lows" and defeated many strong opponents.

Under the eye of Coach Wilson, and Assistant Pro Jeff John, the boys practiced for over two hours a day at the Logan Country Club. The hard work paid off and was reflected by the awesome duel meet record of 8-1 and 1.

The team gathered a 1st at the Skyview Invitational, a 2nd at the Wolf Crick Invitational, a 2nd at the Region Meet and a 10th at the State Championship Meet. Said Coach Wilson, "We met our goals of qualifying for the State Tournament and won the Duel Meet Championship, so it has to be considered a successful season."

Grizzly Netters

Although the Logan Volleyball team earned few victories, it wasn't for lack of trying. The girls stuck with it and gave up a match only after a fierce struggle.

This year the girls improved immensely under the excellent training of Coach Chambers. As head coach, Chambers worked mainly with the eight member varsity team while assistant coaches Penny Johnson and Holly Starks worked with the junior varsity and the freshman teams.

The girls began practicing before school started doing endurance and strength exercises. Once school began, conditioning was almost wholly left up to the girls, leaving practice time to be used for technique training. The techniques worked on were bumps, sets and spikes.

Each team chose captains who kept up team spirit, called the coin toss for the serve, and spoke to the referee about any problems on the court. Chosen for the varsity were Judi Grenney and Penny Baugh, Kim Cunningham and Lisa Fairbanks for the junior varsity, and Lynn Tron and Wendy Smith for the freshman team.

Varsity player Natalie Halaufia summed up the general feeling of the players and expressed it this way, "We all came out winners."

Through the Hoop

The young team that took 7th in the state championships last year started preparing early to be the best ever at Logan High. The girls knew that they would be on top in 1986 and some of the players began training in the summer and worked out through the fall to get ready for the season. "This year we had excellent output from every girl that played and they all knew what their role was on the floor," stated Coach Bryant McKay.

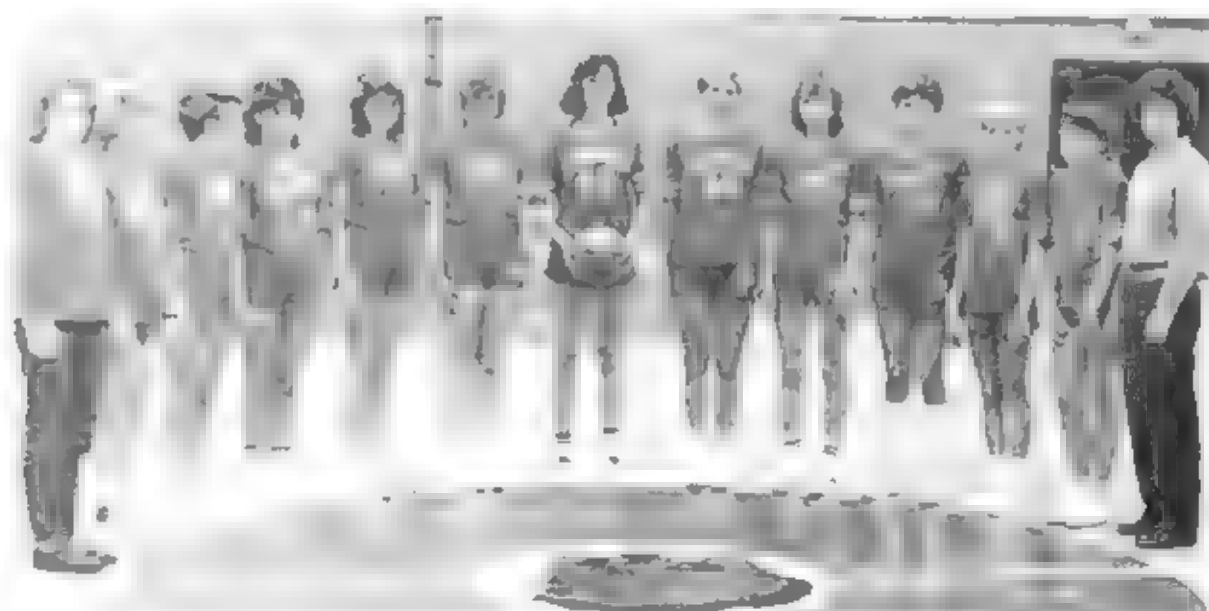

The girls were shooting 62% from the line and 49% from the field.

This was topped off by a 96% shooting spree from the free-throw line, and a close victory of 22-23 to defeat the defending state champion Ogden Tigers.

At the end of their regular campaign their record was an impressive 18-1. Shooting 65% from the line and 52% from the field they headed for the state playoffs and came away very happy. "This year has been great!" exclaimed guard SharLyn Hodson, "We've worked well together and it paid off." The Varsity team successfully took 2nd in State.

Season's Intensity Leads to Success

The Varsity Basketball team was one of the top teams in Region Five. When asked about this years season some of the Grizzlies replied, "This year has been one of the greatest sport experiences of my athletic career."

Another Grizzly was quoted saying "This season had alot of up's and downs, but through hard work and dedication we pulled through with a pretty good year. Thanks to the great coaching staff of Coaches Larry Comadena, and Larry Williams the Grizzlies came through. Even though the guys didn't do as well as they would have liked to they still had a pretty good season.

The varsity starters this year were Ryan Belliston and Scott Anderson as guards, Scott Sorenson and Brett Barfuss as forwards, and Dave Neiderhauser as the center. The starters played very well together. They had a lot of experience at tactics and strategies due to the fact that they were all seniors.

The pre-season went very well for the Grizzly dribblers but the regular season competition stiffened. Every player on the team put forth a great effort to make the season succesfull. The Grizzlies didn't come out on top but they weren't far from it. Many times the odds were against the Grizzlies but often they rose to the occasion and pulled off a victory in the last seconds. Like in the game against Mountain Crest where we were underdogs. We pulled together and won by a point in the last seconds.

The Grizzlies had a lot of heart, pulled together and had a great season.

Under the direction of Coach Yolanda Bates, this years girl's swimming team enjoyed the taste of success, while the boy's team suffered several defeats. The boy's worked very hard and did extremely well individually, but, like the girls, just didn't have the numbers to earn many victories.

The Girl's swam great, although they were not able to to beat Ogden. "First place in every event isn't good enough when you have such a small team. We had awesome quality but lacked quantity," stated team captain Jenny Speth. The fact that nearly all of them went to the state supported that.

Before every meet the team gathered for a psych-up party, which these served to bring everyone closer together, "I think we all had lots of 'good times'," was Judi Grenney's enthusiastic comment.

The boys soccer team had a new coach this year. Mr. Paulos, the genuine "French" teacher had the honors because of his background in the sport. The team lost many players at graduation last year but gained a few from the lower grades. Every member worked very hard and it showed in their playing.

The girls soccer team had an extremely successful year. The numbers they had to work with jumped noticeably with the addition of interested sophomores and freshman. Once again Rita Nelson coached, working with the girls on her own time. Goaly Judi Grenney said, "It was fun to be part of the wins."

Let's Play

The only returning member of the varsity Girls Tennis Team, SharLyn Hodson, said of their year, "It was a rebuilding year."

Through a process of intersquad matches, Coach Elliot selected the seven players to fill the varsity positions. Earning the honors were SharLyn Hodson—1st singles, Camille Larsen—2nd singles, Annika Berkey—3rd singles, Wendy Neuberger and Michelle Griffin—1st doubles, and Chalyce Peterson and Joanna Anderson—2nd doubles. The junior varsity consisted of approximately eleven others who did not have set positions.

Practicing after school on either the indoor or outdoor courts, the girls served, smashed and lobbed the ball with everything they had. Many of them were forced to prove their dedication when the weather wasn't quite perfect. Never-the-less, several of the tougher girls could always be found out volleying.

Though the girl's region record of 7-3 didn't near their 9-1 of last year, Coach Elliott said, "The scores aren't indicative of the matches. One point may have been a three hour battle."

In their tough region the girls did well to tie for third place. Five of the seven member varsity team qualified for state and brought home seventh place. "The sportsmanship our girls demonstrated at state was awesome. At times, it could spread to other teams who were lacking it," was Coach Elliott's comment.

Service With a Smile

The boy's tennis team had a great season. Leading the team during the season were, Sherwin Merrill, Eddie Griffin, Keith Larsen, and Sam Smith. The tennis team continued to be a major threat in state and region levels this season. Coach Ryan had expected them to do well in region and state play, with a lot of hard work and dedication. They all lived up to his expectations.

With its many successes, the Logan High team kept its reputation for its excellence.

NO Errors For Logan Baseball

One of the highlights of spring is watching Logan High's Baseball Team compete. The team was lucky to have athletes like, Derek Matlock, Jeff Shepherd, Kent Haslam, Pete Bailey, and other talented players. The Grizzlies did well in region play, and then went on to play equally as well in state.

Stronger and Faster Than Ever

The year 1986 was a very good year for the Logan High Track Team. Many meets were won by a minimal margin but the grizzlies usually came out on top. The Grizzlies worked very hard to make this year in track a Logan dominated year. A lot of effort was put into the track season by both the coach and the athletes.

The women this year were faster and more agile than in the past years. Their effort this year has been unsurpassed in past years.

Paint!

Looking at the photographs, one might wonder just what exactly was being painted, the windows or the students? This Logan High tradition is one of a kind in Cache Valley and although it may look simple, it involves several steps.

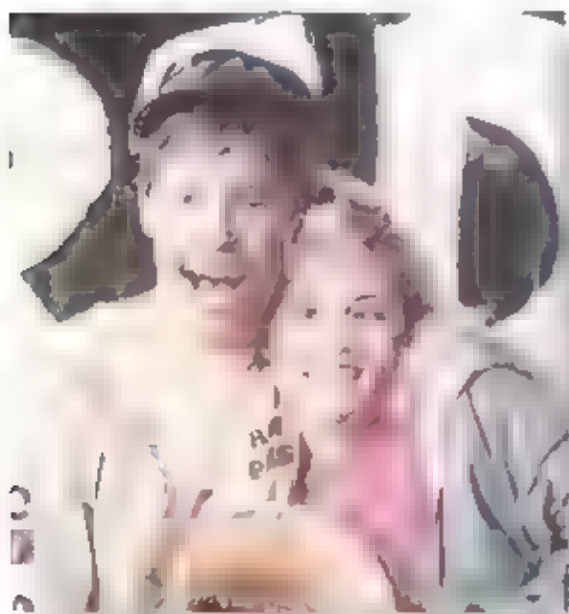

There was a noticeable difference in the senior's artwork this year—it was very tidy. Of course the reason for this was that the class of '86 was just neat . . . actually, they were threatened.

The Senior Class Officers had quite a struggle in getting permission from the merchants for the use of their store fronts. Several merchants, dissatisfied with work of years past were reluctant, but consented when promised with neatness.

The day before the 'great painting' was to be done designs were drawn on the windows with soap. These guidelines were followed fairly well, with a few original exceptions.

The early rising seniors gathered at 6:00 a.m. Monday morning and began painting in the dim light. The windows were finished by 6:30 and then the fights started. Face met brush as slap after slap new looks were created.

This part of Homecoming week was a real spirit booster and should continue. "The only not-so-fun part about it is the hours of clean-up on the Saturday after," stated Brad Isenhower.

Painting the town brought Ronnie Smellie and Kristen Spencer closer.

Female Feud

The 95 senior women that signed up to play powder puff were divided into teams by the Girl's League Officers and posted in the office. The meekest women became tough competitors and spirited yells of "Red is dead" or "Gold will fold" rang through the halls.

Coached by the captains of the football team, the players trained each evening for two weeks learning plays and techniques for use in the game.

Under the lights on October the third the game began. The Red team's quarterback, Sharlyn Hodson, ran in for a touchdown and completed the extra point effort for 2 more. At the half the score was 8 to 0 for the Red.

After half time, penalty after penalty caused two of the Red team's three touchdowns to be recalled. In the fourth quarter with the score 15 to 0, Michelle Davis scored for the Gold. All too soon the end of the game was signaled and the triumphant Red team ran screaming off the field. The less jubilant Gold players were left to stare at the score board which read 15 to 6.

What was different about this years Powder Puff game? Referee Stu Howell said, "Less foul language was used and the game was better played. The girls seemed really interested in playing the game ... not so much just out for blood." One wonders how closely he watched.

Michelle Davis sprints the ball into the endzone.

Brickettes

Brickettes was a fun experience. Everyone that participated got to know each other better and had a great time," commented Mike (Bubbles) Crowshaw. The Brickettes were a group of senior guys that dressed up like girls and took the place of cheerleaders during the powder-puff game. They also did a halftime routine. The Brickettes began preparation for the Powderpuff game just two weeks prior to the game. They gave performances at one pep rally during Homecoming week and another at the pep assembly before the Bear River game. The Brickettes were supported by a wild cheering crowd while they did kicks, rolls, flips, jumps, and other fancy footwork.

Not only were their routines memorable but so were thier outfits. Each Brickette had a red tee-shirt with a creative name such as Yolanda, (Jeff Black) Latoya, (Eric Hoth) and Fifi, (Mark Anderson) printed on the back. During the performances they wore their tee-shirts, maroon velvet skirts, and various colors of hair, makeup, and underwear. Mark Anderson said that the matching outfits "synchronized" the performances. During the Homecoming week Mike (Bubbles) Crowshaw was unofficially elected Brickette queen and Rulon (Vestite) Wood was named first attendant. During the Homecoming parade the Brickettes rode in Mark Anderson's car which they painted with black and orange tiger stripes to mock the Ogden High tigers.

The Brickettes did a fine job of boosting school spirit, and they carried on a tradition that we all enjoy.

Mark Anderson's car "Tiger" was the Hi-Lo wannabes constant mode of transportation.

U.S. Senate Page

Where is Holly Hillyard? I have not seen her since school started!"

"She is back in Washington D.C. being a page in the United States Senate."

Holly started by reporting to Senator Garn's office and was sworn in. Two pages were put in charge of the other pages. They would sit out on the floor by the phone, give out the phone messages and give instructions to the other pages, they also worked at the Policy luncheon that was held every Tuesday. At one such luncheon she had to sing "Jingle Bells" for all of the Republican Senators and the Vice President.

A page's main duty was to be messenger for the Senators, straighten the paper on the desks, and making sure that all of the senators were aware of the vote. The pages also had to set up the Presiding Officers desk and hold the doors.

Holly stayed at the Page Residence Hall. It was located on two of the floors of the House Annex #1. She feels that "dorm" life was the best part of her "page" experience. She was placed in a room with two other girls: Jill Tavlin, from Miami, and Jolene Louge, from Hayward, California. "We were as different as night and day, yet we got along. We were the only ones who did not request a room change."

Holly's day started at 5:30 every morning, and ended at 11:30. Her school was from 6:15 until either one hour before the Senate went into session or 9:45, whichever was earlier. The school's faculty consisted of four teachers and a secretary.

"Paging was probably the funnest thing that I have ever done. I really miss it and the great friendships that were developed. I wish that more kids were able to get the chance to do something like this."

Holly met the Vice President and Linda Evans while she was there. She also shook hands with Prince Charles, and made eye contact Lady Di. She was able to see the President and First Lady.

Preparation for the sophomore bonfire took alot of time. Officers gathered all the boxes, lumber and newspaper available. When the officers took time out to watch the game the bonfire went up in smoke! The premature light up caused the crowd to panic, however student body officers were on the job soon putting out the fire and rushing to retrive more fuel. ## Freshman

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS: Jason Kurren, Senator; Michelle Raymond, Secretary; Jason Fife, President; Jennifer Needham, Senator; Paul Lei, Vice President.

The freshman class officers showed great school spirit in many activities. Even though they were somewhat lost in the student senate meetings and other Logan High traditions, they soon became a part of the school. Their float with Grizzwald, cheerleaders and football players brightened the parade and made the freshman year a memorable one for the class of '89.

The Freshman float, with Grizzwald portrayed school spirit at its best.

Freshman have always been the lower classman, naturally. They are the people who cannot sit on the jock bench and the ones who get stuck in the chicken coop. At the beginning of the year they were badly painted, scoffed, and stepped on. Are they really that bad? We upper classmen used to be there, and now we have risen to higher levels. In time freshman will become seniors, and consequently treat the freshman as freshman should be treated.

Academics

The academic standards at Logan High keep students on their toes, striving to reach personal goals. Logan's long list of outstanding scholars is indicative of the high goals students set.

Students begin the mad rush to their lockers from the English building.

Academics

In A Different Direction

LOGAN CITY SCHOOL BOARD: Robert Williams, Gordon Haws, Malcolm Allred, Ronald Peterson, John Emmett, James C. Blair, Superintendant; JoAnn Wimmer, President.

Superintendent James Blair stated, "Over the years I have always been impressed by the high caliber of high school that Logan High is. I think that they have demonstrated that they have been a high quality senior class, and we wish them well in whatever they do."

The school board's job was never done. Issues and problems just kept coming up. They also made many decisions on how to spend the money brought into the district by the sale of bonds. JoAnn Wimmer commented that "My biggest concern is when people receive information by word of mouth and then they become upset because they don't know the whole story."

"You're supposed to be HERE during fourth hour?"

Examples of Excellence

Principal, Rulon Olsen

Vice Principal, Larry Haslam

Mr. Haslam is very excited at the thought of signing another purchase order.

A day at Logan High was a busy one for both Rulon Olsen, Principal, and Larry Haslam, Vice Principal. Even though they had a million things to do, they both took time out to listen and to care about the students.

During Mr. Olsen's 11 years he has enjoyed association with students, parents, and faculty members. When referring to these associations, he said, "The students and faculty at Logan High are the best!"

Getting the students excited about going to school was just one of Mr. Haslam's purposes. Another included guiding students to be accountable for behavior and coordinating student government activities. Both, Mr. Olsen and Mr. Haslam, felt that our school had the "Winning Attitude."

Organization At It's Best

Logan High has an excellent secretarial staff this year. The hours they work often go unnoticed. They spend most of their time trying to please principals, teachers, and students.

Their skills range from computer literacy to shorthand. Many hours of hard work are spent at the typewriter turning out announcements, schedules, and letters to parents. Keeping track of everyone is a big job, but one that Mrs. Lucherini, the attendance secretary, handles nicely. Following through with purchase orders only one of the many jobs Mrs. Tripp, Treasurer, does.

The head of the secretarial staff is Mrs. Russell. While keeping up with her secretarial responsibilities, she also manages to find time to chaperone the cheerleaders.

Many people do not fully understand the many responsibilities of our excellent secretarial staff.

We would like to thank the secretaries for the outstanding job they do in keeping our school organized and running smoothly. We realize that combating students every day can be very hazardous to the nervous system, but the job can also be very rewarding.

Mrs. Tripp is doing a very fine job keeping track of all of the money that goes in and out of our school.

Mrs. Rigby is the secretary for the counselors, as Peggy Russell poses with her head cheerleader and songleader. Kay Lucherini calls a student out of class to clear an unexcused absence.

Mr. Ballard

Guidance To The Future

The counselors at Logan High this year have really made an extra effort to help students. They constantly give their time to students needing schedule changes, transcript copies, and test results.

No one really knows how much time and effort goes into student counseling than the counselors themselves. Spending time with students always takes a lot of patience but helping them with their problems takes an extra amount. Many times one finds oneself in the counseling office only to find warm people that are glad to help in any way possible.

They help us start thinking about career possibilities and what we are going to do after high school. We realize that there are many opportunities for our after high school life that we need to know about and the counselors are always there to tell us about them. The counselors really do a great job and we need to use their skills.

Mr. Ballard (above) supervises the Key Club in addition to counselor. Rhea Wallentine explains what classes one needs to take to graduate and get into college.

Acedemic Edge

The faculty at Logan High School was one beyond compare. Their standards of excellence in both the quality of education they taught and also in the feeling of support they offered the school in its activites were appreciated by the entire studentbody.

The hard work and dedication to their pro-session shown by all the teachers demonstrated their abilities to teach. Many hours were spent both before and after school correcting tests, papers, and other assignments. Teachers let students come in during their off-hours for extra help. The teachers also had to work on many days when the students were out of school. UEA break, and the trimester work days, were just two examples of the extra time the teachers put in to make our class time more productive.

The assemblies, pep rallies, games, and dances could never have happened without the help of the faculty. Throughout the year they all took their turn chaperoning the various school sponsored activites. Many of the teachers were advisors to classes, and other organizations.

Cook and Clean Up

The cooks have a very tough job. They come to work early in the morning, put on the aprons, and immediately begin to prepare a meal for over 1000 students. This in itself is a very tough job. They must order the food, make assignments, prepare the food, serve the food, clean up after the students, and many more kitchen oriented jobs.

Their job not only includes cooking but also serving and cleaning.

Cleaning is also a subject for the janitors. They are responsible for keeping the whole school clean. They have to clean up the lunchtime litter twice a day. After school is when their job really begins. They must vacuum the lobby, sweep the halls, vacuum or sweep the classrooms, and clear the walkways. Many times they are opening jammed lockers and locked classrooms.

Both the cooks and janitors do a really great job for us at Logan High.

Unique Character

The English and Language departments are part of the unique character that made Logan High such a first rate school. The combination of an excellent staff, nice facilities and an awesome studentbody created endless possibilities.

To begin with, the writing program or "Wandah" totally restructured the way short papers were written. This program, first put to use here at Logan High, was copied throughout the state. Wandah's older sister, HBJ, was introduced and adopted. Also, instead of the normal, boring, required courses of 9th grade English, 10th grade English, 11th grade English, and so on, courses at Logan were classed by subject and were open to more than one grade level. In this way, students could study in depth subjects from black literature to grammar and punctuation.

Several differences in the Languages department have also been incorporated this year. First year German was taught, a Spanish lab was added, and new members were added to the staff. The Spanish lab, a program designed to create a more relaxed studying atmosphere, involved satellite relayed broadcasts and computer work. Logan students were lucky to have such advantages at their finger tips.

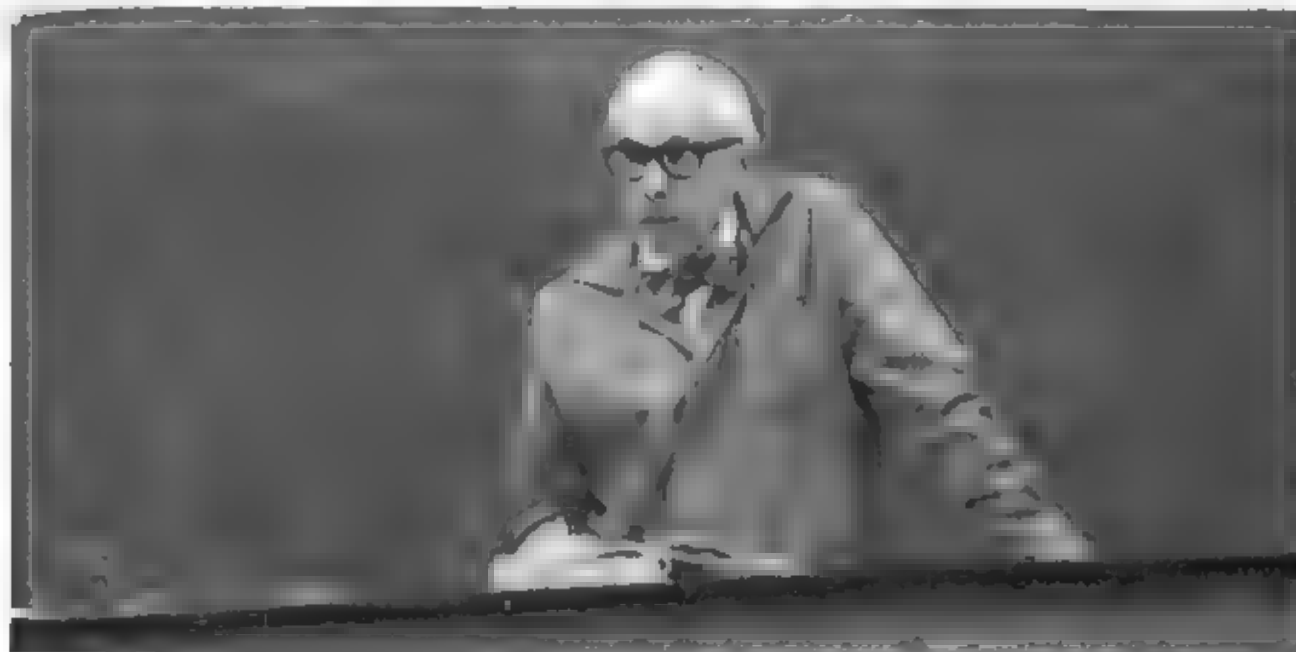

Cycling down the hall "Mr. Bill" Emmett shows how laid back the English department really is.

Wanda is no problem for Tom Albee and Lance Clayton
AP Students hand in an essay while Mrs. Stock oversees the class.

Calculating The Difference

Top: "Now, did I do that right?" says Mrs. Elich. Bottom: "It's so ponderful," thinks Mr. Bradford.

The Math Department at Logan High this year was extremely successful. Students felt that the teachers were very competent this year as usual.

There were several new teachers this year. Miss Desiree Tidwell, who taught part time last year, taught full time this year. She teaches Programming 1 and 2 and Geometry. Mrs. Bowden was also a new teacher this year. She teaches Pre-algebra and Algebra 1.

Mr. Wilson taught a new programming language called PASCAL in some of his classes. A new course was also offered called probability.

The teachers still offered all the help they could to students having problems with their math. The television program Math Helps, where students called in to teachers and asked them questions they had on their math homework, was still a success this year as it has been in the past.

Top: "Ask me again after I finish taking roll," says Mr. Davidson. Bottom right: Mr. Gardner sits down on the job while discussing and especially difficult problem. Bottom right: Diana Campanella and Tori Allen seen to have different feelings about the assignment.

Weird Science

The Science Department offered the students of Logan High numerous opportunities to discover the diversity of its field. The seven member staff combined their efforts to interest all students in one field or another and triumphantly succeeded.

A new course was added to the curriculum in the form A.P. biology. advanced scholars delved further into the wonders Mr. Hoyt enlightened them on. "It's a lot of work but it's pretty interesting," commented Shawn Fullmer.

Students in Mr. Allen's physiology classes were shown the birthing films that their friends had warned them about and learned that the stories of Mainard fainting, because, "he was so grossed out", didn't hold their water. "I expected them to be a lot worse," said Barbra Griffin.

Many students just couldn't get enough science so they joined clubs like the Science Club or the Chemistry Club. Kong An, one of the enthusiasts, enjoyed them so much that he became President of both of them. After school hours were spent discussing or disputing the many theories and principles.

Students were seen wandering the town, campus and canyon picking, clipping and collecting varied plants for botany. After risking life and limb to gather those out of reach samples the next step was to press, dry and display them. Although proud of their collections, students were more often heard boasting of the scratches and bruises they had accumulated along the way.

Those who were involved in science courses gained invaluable knowledge both practical and also applicable for those students who intend to further their career in science or related fields. "Everybody should learn more about chemistry and science because the more they know, the better they will like it," stated Kong An.

▲ Mr. Bradford generously supplies writing utensils.

▲ "We were very close," says Doug Beach with a tear in his eye.

▲ The class perks up when Mr. Hoyt mentions the reproductive system of cellular bodies.

▲ "Would you like some?" offers Mr. Allen.

Discovering the World

Logan High has a excellent program of social studies that is diversified enough to capture and hold the interest of all students. Courses offered range from Comadena's entertaining psychology classes to Stu's more academically straining A.P. History ones.

A change introduced this year will be of great advantage to students who graduate after 1986. The A.P. American History course was opened to the top scholars of the Junior class. This will enable them to participate in A.P. European History as seniors. One of the juniors using this opportunity is Laura Heal. When asked how she felt about it she said, "I like this because if I pass the exam this year then next year I can knock off more required college credits in A.P. European History."

The department of Social Studies has faculty characterized by a variety of personalities. McKay with his booming voice scared his students into good work, Comadena kept pupils rolling with his stand up comedian style vocabulary words and Mr. Henry left them behind with his sarcasm. These and other teachers helped develop a growing feeling towards the importance of past and current events.

Miss Lott has a loyal following of ardent debaters. A well qualified debator herself, her students like her because "she cares about us not only as debators but as people," Kim Coray. Class work is only a small part of most Logan students debating career. Approximately three fourths go on to compete and many carry it into their future for further use.

With such an outstanding program available, the three required credits of Social Studies are easily and enjoyably completed by all students.

Stuart Howell explains to his AP history class, in an irritated tone of voice, "This is not a democracy, this is a dictatorship."

Coach Watts explains the finer points of history, as Mr. Henrie tells the class why they need a dictionary.

Ms. Lott looks for the last tournament's ballots, while Comadena and McKay do what they always do.

Ready For The Working World

The business department offered the students of Logan High a wide variety of classes that exposed them to the dynamics of the business world. Students could explore the areas of marketing, accounting, shorthand, office procedures, type, and business applications.

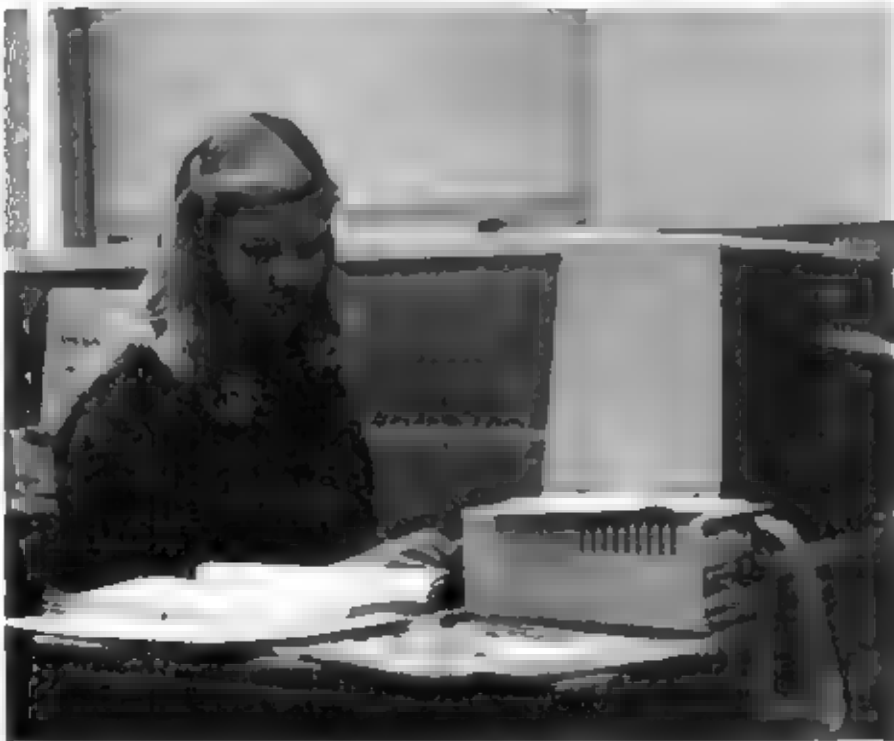

Business students also had the opportunity to investigate the world of computers. The department's old typewriters were replaced with new IBM PC's bringing the total to 25 in the IBM classroom. A new keyboarding class was also offered utilizing Apple computers. The computers attracted many students to the class offerings of the business department.

Debbie Johnson was selected as the business department's Sterling Scholar for 1985-86. Mr. Williams commented, "Debbie is a diligent student who has a great deal of potential for the business world."

When students go out looking for a job the knowledge they gained in their business classes will determine whether or not they succeed in the workforce.

Mr. Williams dreams about the day he will get to teach a quiet class, while Mrs. Zilles dictates words for her shorthand students to translate.

Creativity At It's Best

The Fine Arts Program was outstanding this year at Logan High. Teachers enjoyed an increased number of students. The band, orchestra, and the various art classes had many more students than last year. Mr. Brunson taught more classes than he did last year and many students felt that the increased number of students and classes made the Fine Arts Program better.

The school play, "Arsenic and Old Lace" took up the majority of the first trimester theatre arts students' time. The play was a big success and drew crowds like never before. Although most of the work required for the performances was done during school hours, the show's stars had to donate quite a few evenings to add final touches. The main event of the theatre classes' year was also a huge success. The musical production of "Annie Get Your Gun" pleased crowds of all ages.

The trimester system, in it's second year, has proved to be an advantage to the art department. Because of the twenty-minute extension of each class, students have much more time to work on and complete assignments. An extra twenty minutes was also a great advantage to the music department, allowing much more time for practice and work on various pieces of music. Brett Johnson, a member of the Symphonic Band stated, "I think the added time with the trimester program is a great help. It gives us a lot more time to practice in class so we don't have to practice so hard at home to learn our music."

Over all, the Fine Arts Program at Logan High this past year was an extreme success as it has been it's long lasting tradition.

▲ Krissa Carlson concentrates in class.

▲ Daniel Cantarovici seems to be all tied up.

▲ "We wish you a merry Christmas!" sing Tony Eames, Alison Walton, and Kristin Spencer.

Auto - Bodies

The benefits of auto classes were many in number. The two courses offered at Logan High were dominated by male students, although they would be just as helpful for any female willing to participate. These classes were designed to increase students' knowledge not only about the internal car mechanisms but also about repairing or replacing malfunctioning parts.

Many students, who took these classes in hopes of escaping grueling academic work of other subjects, were shocked when they found that it wasn't all fun and games. Besides classwork, the physical side of repairing automobiles was demanding and often tedious. Also, depending on the extent of repair work needed, it sometimes cost students a small fortune to use class time. No one was heard complaining though, because they realized that having a professional do the work would double or even triple those costs.

Auto I covers the basic concepts of maintenance, tune-ups, trouble shooting, brakes, electronic systems, and engines. The classes consisted mostly of Juniors that had obtained a driver's license.

Auto II is an advanced class where students worked on special projects covering alternators, fuel systems, and transmissions. Jaron Zollinger, a Junior, said, "It's a great class, you learn a lot".

The variety of victims of the Auto Shop class were either donated or brought in by students, friends or faculty. "You can fix anything and everything after taking a shop class," said Rick Velasquez.

Industrial and electronics classes also help to further the student's understanding of how machines work. Aside from knowing how things work, the students are taught to fix almost anything in need of repair.

A delicate job takes all of Darren Stoke's concentration.

Planning for the Future

Home Economic classes provide training for everyone who is planning on having a home and a few kids, or maybe even people who want to live on their own. No matter what anyone wants to do with their lives Hom Ec classes benefit all by teaching skills that people need to live.

The faculty who teach homecoming classes is Mrs. Jardine, Mrs. Johnson, and Mrs. Brown.

This is Mrs. Brown's first year teaching. She taught classes dealing with comprehensive homemaking, basic foods and technology and an overview of job opportunities. Mrs. Brown commented, "It is a good place to start out, it will probably spoil me for other places due to the caliber of people."

Shape it up

Some people hate it, and some people look forward to it, and some people just take it because they need to fill 2 credits. The ironic thing is: Its good for everyone no matter what their station in life is. Can you guess what we're talking about?

Physical Fitness, exercising, getting in shape, exertion, losing pounds, and having fun are all sensations you would find in a PE class.

The PE Department at Logan High is staffed by Coach Chambers, Coach McBride, Coach Elliott, Coach McKay and Coach Ryan. Logan High is proud to have such excellent coaches, and such excellent facilities.

Preparing For Life.

The Alternate Learning Center is provided for those high school students who have or will soon have small children. The 25-30 students at the ALC must complete high school according to the requirements set by the local and county school districts. Their electives are set to their own special needs such as marital relations, parenting, and sewing. Myra Lynch, program director, really enjoys teaching at the Alternate Learning Center because, "I really love to teach here. Sometimes the classes are as small as nine students and I can get to know them on a personal level."

Teacher Jean Ehrhart

Teacher Myra Lynch

▲ At the Alternate Learning Center the young women receive classes to fulfill their special needs. They also are able to meet others in the same circumstances.

We Discovered the DIFFERENCE

Dennis,
you are a talented actor! You did a good job in the play this year and I'm glad
I got to know
you better.
Cindy Vance

Cindy Vance

1. Junior and Senior girls are proud to be from Logan High.
2. Mr. Olsen's kazoo band was an entertaining and fun part of the Homecoming parade.
3. The library was great place to study or just get away.

The year of 1985-86 surpassed anything in Logan High's past. Students excelled academically, athletically, and socially.

Noteworthy events like Homecoming Week, Governor Bangerter's visit, and Beach Week made the school year memorable not only for the graduating seniors, but also for the lower classmen.

Individual achievements reached a new plateau with nationally recognized scholars and athletic State Champions, while many groups such as the Hi-Los and the Debate Team also set standards.

Information

The Logan High School Amphion. Volume 69. was printed by Herff Jones Co. Logan, Utah.

The senior portraits, class pictures, cover, and divider page pictures were taken by Felt's Photography. Royalty, class officers, and the studentbody officer's picture taken by Foto Express, Cache Valley Mall.

The layouts, copy and pictures were designed by the Amphion staff. The print for Student Life was Newbury. Organizations- Korrina Extra Bold Italic, Sports- Stymie Bold Italic, Studentbody- Times Roman Bold Italic, Academics- News Gothic Bold Italic.

The theme section, dividers, and the conclusion were created by Kim Freeman. Print for these pages was in Optima Bold Italic. The copy was in 10 point type. The page identifications were in 18 point type. Captions printed in 8 point, and headlines in 30 point. The theme copy printed in 18 point.

There were 1100 books ordered and sold to students, teachers and professional people. The cost of the books was 13$. A six page insert covering graduation and spring activities was printed and distributed in the summer.

1. Under the lights, the studentbody witnesses a triumph.
2. Matt Duce and Clint Petersen study in their spare time.
3. The Hi-Los show true school spirit in the parade.
4. The basketball team are as tense as the crowd in another four second game.
5. The LHS Airline travels the world in a great pep rally.

The Best Got Even Better!

The students of Logan High has witnessed many things this year. The quality of academics and athletics increased while all the students came together to make up Logan High and it's reputation of being the very best!

212 The End

Stu's AP students show why high school is the best years of their lives. A great majority of the studentbody went to Springville to root for their team. Hail to Logan High!

Dennis-
hey bud your great!
we had some good
discussions together!
promising the next time I see you,
you'll be the richest guy in the world! Well anyway keep up the great ideas and madness you'll need for your senior year!
Love ya
Allison

Dennis, I don't know you very well, you seem to be very nice!
I hope you do well
in Nationals! Good luck now and in the future!
Love,
Erica

Dennis,
Thanks for your hugs!
I helped alot to know
some "Advanced" debater
news me!

Dennis,

You like me don't you. I'm a jock and a debater. A sportodebater.
Don't be so hard on jocks.
See you around.

Scott

Dennis,
thank you for satisfying my desires in the only way possible.
See you this weekend.
Love, Doug

DENNIS,
CALM DOWN MAN! LEARN A PEN NEW WORDS WIL YA!
VERKEHR, GIVE ME A BREAK!
THANKS FOR BEING A GREAT FRIEND TO ME. SEE YA AROUND.

FRENCH

Dennis,
you're a good ledger
but you'd better watch out for me next year - I'm turning on the power full force! Well, anyway stay out of trouble
but have a good summer!
Gya Licia P.

Dennis -

So, you're making me sign this instead of a fardy slip or excuse, huh? Great, I can handle that. Good luck in your future - But I doubt you'll need it. You'll make your own luck. Gya Kaye

Dennis (Jonathan),
it's been a cool year!
I enjoyed having you in Deutsch Klasse this year.
Hope to see you around
during the summer!
Gya next year!
Mark

Dennis,

It has been great having you around to create a little commotion in A.P. I think you will always have an argument for someone.
Thanks for being a friend and I hope I'll see you around this summer

Mark
Anderson

Dennis,

What can I say - You have been rude obnoxious + downright mean to me this year.
Good thing I've been twice as bad.

Kathie

Dennis,
I know that you've given you a lot of still shit but Dennis a real guy think your a real guy and mellow out take it easy
Pete B.

Dennis,

Have a fun
summer!

Theater Arts has been fun.
You have real talent in

Dennis, theater.
Well my rats.
If I catch you drunk
there I will make you go to church
with me for 3 years!
Bye!

Suzanne

Dennis,

you have got to be the crabb
guy of Logan High.
thanks for helping
us with pep rallies.
stuck-stuck & have fun your senior year. Take care.
hope to see you
around.

Michelle
Davis

DENNIS,
YOU BIG CHEESE
HEARD ON A POCE. I THINK YOU NEED A HAPPIER FAMILY LIFE FOR CHRISTMAS. I HAVE ENJOYED GAMING IT WITH YOU, WE'LL HAVE TO DO IT WITH SOME MORE
SINCERELY + EMOTIONAL
BRETT
